$33,000,000 Alberta's Fourth Victory Loan Quota

Record of Savings Deposits in Banks Show Sums Which Should be Invested in Victory Bonds

Alberta's objective for the Fourth Victory Loan is $33,000,000 which is an increase of $13,000,000 over the Third Victory Loan objective, last November.

Announcement to this effect was made by F. E. Osborne, Calgary. Mr. Osborne is chairman of the National War Finance Committee for Alberta. Mr. Osborne's statement follows:

The National War Finance Committee for Alberta has been advised by headquarters at Ottawa that our objective in the Fourth Victory Loan, which opens April 26th, has been set at $33,000,000. This compares with an objective for the Third Victory Loan last October and November of $20,000,000 and with actual subscriptions to that loan of over $27,700,000. That tells the story of the immense task which confronts the people of Alberta now.

This objective is broken down into $25,000,000 from General Sales and Payroll Deductions, and $11,000,000 from Special Names, Non-Banking Corporations, etc. ($25,000,000 and over). As a matter of fact, this latter figure is unofficially set for Alberta at $12,000,000 in order to provide for a National over subscription of $50,000,000.

The people of Alberta have done magnificently in previous Victory Loan Campaigns, and last November headed the Dominion in percentage of increase of results over objective. The record of Savings Deposits in Alberta Chartered banks shows in the aggregate immense sums which should now be invested in Victory Bonds. This is particularly true of accounts with credits of from two hundred to five thousand dollars each. Those dollars should be definitely working for Victory, NOW. Luxury spending should be out for the duration to allow heavier participation in this Loan from Payroll Deductions. There should not be one man or woman in Alberta of adult age and in gainful occupation who has not some share in the forthcoming Loan, to his or her maximum ability. "Back the Attack" means just what it says—back our boys with our dollars. And those who do so will provide a back-log for themselves after the war and be paid a good rate of interest on their money in the meantime.

Those who have hitherto been concerned about the ruling that subscriptions from Companies with one or more branches must be placed through head office with consequent loss of local totals, will be interested in knowing that 20 percent of the total Special Name subscriptions in Ontario and Quebec will be re-allocated on a pro rata basis to the other provinces. This has not been taken into consideration in our official objective of $33,000,000—that still remains our job and our responsibility. The amount of money we must ourselves raise within the borders of our own province.

In the light of Alberta's task starting April 26th and lasting for three weeks I would like every one who reads this notice to catch the spirit of the old Quaker who said:

I am only one but I am one. I can't do everything but I can do something. And what I can do and what I

EXTRA SUGAR WILL SWEETEN RHUBARB

Extra sugar for cooking rhubarb is allowed through order of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board effective immediately, ration officials announced this week.

Blue coupon number 1, "Spare B," in the new ration book, may be used for the purchase of one pound of sugar for cooking rhubarb from now until May 31. Only blue coupon 1 may be used for this purpose, and it is considered that one pound of sugar is sufficient for sweetening five pounds of rhubarb.

Heretofore no extra sugar was allowed for cooking rhubarb. The housewives were required to use sugar from their ration for this purpose, as for other stewed fruits prepared for current needs of the family table.

Lions Club Given Talks by Visiting Technicians

Monday evening, at the regular supper meeting of the local Lions' club, three guests were present, two of whom were out of town technicians, Mr. Henry Waterhouse in is inspecting electric light metres and Mr. Elliott Murray, who is stationed at the Dominion airport at Lethbridge, was on his first visit to the Crows' Nest Pass and Coleman.

Mr. Waterhouse, of Calgary, gave a very interesting talk on his duties as inspector of electric and gas metres. He revealed something of the accuracy of these instruments, due largely to their durability and the periodic check and adjustment.

Mr. Murray, who has been with the Dominion government as a radio beam technician for a few years at Edmonton, Winnipeg, and now at Lethbridge, gave a very interesting explanation of the different phases of service at the Dominion airport and meteorological station at Lethbridge. His explanation of atmospheric changes, indications of storm and the methods of forecasting gave a much better idea of the service rendered by their weather bureau. Then his technical explanation of the radio beam to guide planes was really fascinating.

The program was very prompt, it was highly informing and entertaining.

MAGAZINES AND PLAYING CARDS WANTED BY ARMED SERVICES

The ladies have either started or are preparing to start their Spring housecleaning. No doubt there will be a number of magazines uncovered such as Life, Look, Cosmopolitan, Western Stories, etc. and there may be also the odd deck of playing cards. Mrs. F. Antrobus, of Antrobus' Office, main street, would be only too pleased to receive these used magazines and playing cards. At her office the magazines and cards would be packed and shipped to the magazine depot at Halifax where they would be distributed to the armed forces passing through that port.

Miss Johnstons' Pupils Have Purchased $100 in War Stamps

The pupils of Miss Johnston's class in Central school are to be congratulated on reaching the high total of $100 in war savings stamps.

The pupils, encouraged to save and help the war effort by their teacher, have been purchasing war stamps steadily at the school for a little better than two months.

They are now competing against the other classes in the school for the handsome framed picture of Roosevelt and Churchill which will be awarded each month to the class purchasing the highest percentage of war stamps.

Foss Boulton Often Mentioned In War Despatches

Seldom a week passes that the war news of Canadian fighter pilots in action over Europe does not mention Squadron Leader Foss Boulton.

Last week he was mentioned as having wiped out a gun nest in a Nazi train and so cleared the way for a member of his squadron to attack the engine unmolested.

This week he led his squadron over Abbeville where it pounced on 20 enemy fighters. Here is how a London despatch tells the story of the fight:

Saturdays score of those despatched was swelled by Sqdn. Ldr. S. H. Boulton of Coleman, Alta. and Wing Commander J. E. Johnson D.F.C. and bar, an Englishman commanding the wing, who got one each. Johnson said the wing pounced on about 20 enemy fighters which came up after bombs had been dropped on objectives in Abbeville.

Boulton attacked a fighter from underneath and observed strikes that blew off pieces from the enemy aircraft.

"The bullets seemed to go into the body of the plane and then I should think into the cockpit and the engine because he started to give out smoke," Boulton said. "Then the enemy machine tipped forward on its nose and went straight down."

New School Act

Designed to help the farm labor shortage, the new amended school attendance act changes the holiday season in Alberta schools so that this year, summer vacation starts July 1 and continues through to October 10. In future years, until the act is changed, the summer holidays will start on August 1 and continue until the second Monday in October, when schools will re-open. Another amending bill raises the minimum salary of teachers to $900 from $840.

MISS CANADAS TO SELL WAR STAMPS NEXT SATURDAY

Adults who plan on purchasing war stamps on Saturdays are asked to give their purchase to the Miss Canadas.

FLU CUTS DOWN SCHOOL ATTENDANCE

Sudden changes in the weather the past two weeks are blamed for the large number of cases of flu prevailing in town.

The children appear to be the worst hit and attendance at the local schools has suffered. Some classes are said to have had only eight students in attendance on some days. School teachers have failed to escape and three of them have had to stay at home for brief periods.

Many adults have been confined to their homes due to the flu.

To Enforce Bylaw Whereby it is Compulsory to Have Ashes Hauled Away by Ashman; Municipal Festival Given $10 Grant.

Council had its regular meeting on Monday evening. Present, Mayor Antrobus, councillors, Aboussafy, Cox, Dutil, Ford Jenkins and Ramsay.

The main item of business was hearing the report of Councillor Frank Aboussafy, who had been in conference with Minister of Public Works W. A. Fallow, of Edmonton, at the week-end, regarding flood control in the Town of Coleman.

Councillor Aboussafy paid high tribute to E. O. Duke, M.L.A. for this constituency, for his efforts in arranging the appointment with Mr. Fallow and Mr. Sutherland, the latter of the Water Resources Department, and his valued help during the discussions.

Councillor Aboussafy laid his cards on the table in dealing with Messrs. Fallow and Sutherland. He told them of the critical need for flood control and that citizens residing in the threatened area were not in a financial position to take any loss to property through flood. Aided by arguments from Mr. Duke, he secured the promise from Mr. Fallow that quick action would be taken. Speaking later to Mr. Sutherland, Councillor Aboussafy secured his promise that he would come to Coleman and inspect conditions at the earliest opportunity.

He also found out the reason why so much flood control work was done at Blairmore. The provincial government first started dredging the creek running through Blairmore in order to protect their bridges. A letter was received from Blairmore town council a week after the province had decided to start flood control work. Once the province was finished with its work it arranged with Federal authorities to continue flood control work in the Blairmore area by deepening the river. Coleman's mistake was made in first dealing with the provincial authorities.

In concluding his report he warned against too much optimism. He stated he had secured promises for quick action but whether these promises would be implemented with action only the immediate future would tell.

Getting back to regular business the council dealt with the complaint of a tax payer against his neighbor who was dumping ashes near the former's residence, the ashes thereby becoming a nuisance. He asked that the practice be stopped immediately. In discussing this matter Police Chairman John Ramsay was emphatic that not only this case but others throughout the entire town would have to be drastically dealt with. Councillor Ramsay said ashes can be seen in streets and back alleys and in addition there are ever growing piles of tin cans and other rubbish. Warnings have been given repeatedly to residents that it is compulsory to have their ashes taken away by the town's ashman but many have ignored the warnings. Constable Antle was warned to inspect the entire town and bring into court all those who still insisted in dumping ashes in the streets, hillside, back alleys and refused to have them carted away.

A $10 grant was authorized to the C.N.P. Musical Festival.

Guard Your Gasoline Ration Book

KEEP IT ON YOUR PERSON • DO NOT LEAVE IT IN YOUR CAR

NOW that you have your 1943-1944 gasoline ration book, it is up to you to keep it at all times in a safe place. If it is lost, burned, or stolen, you will be deprived of coupons which will not be replaced. In this regard, the policy of the Oil Controller is as follows:

1. If, through negligence, you lose your gasoline ration book before October 1, 1943, you may be allowed no more, and perhaps less, than half the coupons to which you would be entitled if you were making an original application.
2. If, through negligence, you lose your ration book on or after October 1, 1943, you may be allowed no more, and perhaps less, than 25 per cent of the coupons to which you would be entitled if you were making an original application.

The new gasoline rationing system, effective on April 1, will be strictly enforced. Under its provisions, the motorist, as well as the service station attendant, is held responsible if any infractions occur. It is contrary to the orders of the Oil Controller:

1. To purchase gasoline with 1942-1943 coupons.
2. To purchase gasoline unless you have the correct category sticker affixed to your windshield.
3. To detach coupons from your own book. (The removal of the coupons is the duty of the attendant.)
4. To have in your possession a gasoline ration coupon not attached to, and forming a part of, a gasoline ration book.
5. To have in your possession a gasoline ration book other than the book issued in respect of a vehicle you own, or in respect of a vehicle driven by you with the full consent of the real owner.
6. To alter, deface, obliterate, or mutilate any gasoline ration book or coupon.

If you sell your motor vehicle, remember that before making delivery you must remove the windshield sticker or stickers. Remember also that after the sale is completed, you must mail to the nearest Regional Oil Control Office in your province the gasoline ration book or books issued for the vehicle.

Post-War Possibilities

DISCUSSION OF POST-WAR PLANS at the recent mid-continent research conference held in Minneapolis, Minn., have once more drawn attention to the possibilities of greater industrial development on the Prairies. Premier Stuart S. Garson, of Manitoba, one of those who represented Western Canada at the conference, reported that there had been talk of the utilization of the rich lignite deposits of Manitoba and Saskatchewan, and of North and South Dakota, in the building up of a great chemical industry. He also said that the Manitoba white poplar might some day be used as a raw material for manufacturing rayon and other chemical products. The importance of Western Canada in the air routes of the future were also discussed at the conference, where it was pointed out that the most direct routes between many points on this continent and important parts of Europe and Asia, lie directly across the Canadian Prairies.

Industry Has Not Expanded

Because of the distance from the Prairie Provinces to some of the large centres of population, many of their industrial potentialities have never been fully developed. Sodium sulphate deposits in Saskatchewan have proved of importance and have supplied the pulp and paper mills of Canada for many years. The oil of the Turner-Wiley, clay deposits of Saskatchewan and Alberta, and the lignite coal of Manitoba and Saskatchewan have all been developed, some to great advantage. However, it is hoped that after the war there will be much greater expansion in the manufacture of the products of raw materials produced on the Prairies. The opening of the Alaska Highway has given access to a land rich in minerals and oil and it is likely that after the war there will be great activity in this region. There has already been considerable development in oil wells in the vicinity of Fort McMurray, and there is promise of many more enterprises of this nature.

Wheat Used In Making Rubber

One of the greatest problems of this war, both for the army and for civilians has been the sudden curtailment of the United Nations' supply of raw rubber, by Japan. The importance of wheat in the process of manufacturing synthetic rubber has aroused much interest, and Western wheat is now being used for this purpose in Canada. Wheat is also a source of industrial alcohol, which next to water is the most important liquid used in industry. The use of wheat in both these processes offers many possibilities for future industrial development here. Wheat is also suggested as a basis for plastic materials, which are to be widely used after the war. Thus it appears that with the coming of peace, there may be a period of interesting and extensive industrial expansion in the West.

HEALTH LEAGUE OF CANADA
CANNING IS A "MUST" IN 1943

This third year of war means, as many Canadian housewives already know, shortages in certain groups of food commodities which we have always been accustomed to purchase without any difficulty. In fact, many of us have taken it for granted that supplies of these goods would always be available. In doing so, we have not taken into consideration the practical and intensely realistic reasons why we must do without.

Meat, as we all know, is an essential material in the successful carrying on of a modern war. The millions of cans of prepared foods of various kinds which we have so casually picked off the shelves of our local grocery stores have represented tons of precious tin which is needed in the war effort. Therefore the manufacture of canned fruits has been drastically curtailed. "What is the answer?" asks the Canadian housewife. Simply this:

She must augment the steadily dwindling supplies of canned fruits still obtainable from her grocer with fruit by herself from this season's crop. Many have done this for years, but this year it will be necessary to decide in advance how much fruit to can in order that sugar might be obtained for the purpose. The Dominion Government urges Canadian housewives to can fruit this year instead of making it into jam or jelly, as the latter requires more sugar to make. Experts state that three pounds of sugar will make six quarts of canned fruit, whereas three pounds of sugar will make only two quarts of jam or jelly. More food value is also conserved when the fruit is canned.

Application for sugar for canning purposes is necessary in order that the Sugar Administration of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board can provide the sugar needed. The application for canning sugar is to be found in the new ration book. The form must be filled in and returned to the nearest local Ration Board before April 15th.

England's Weather

Paper Reported Warmest And Sunniest January In Many Years

January's "freak" weather in London and southeast England broke records that have stood for many generations. It was the wettest January for over 40 years and its warmest day temperature was the second highest for 85 years. It was the sunniest and warmest January for many years.

The worst gale for some years swept over southeastern England during the last week-end of the month. Prolonged gusts of wind reached a speed of 70 miles an hour at Kew Observatory, and the rainfall during the gale was 1.3 inch. Great damage was done over a wide area, particularly in mid-Kent, where the River Medway overflowed its banks and became a mile wide in some places. It quickly subsided.

Thousands of acres of land in Kent and Sussex were flooded. Along the Kent and Sussex coast seafarers and fishermen were severely battered by the great seas in the Channel. At Southend, a 2,000-ton ship dragged her anchors and became wedged into the pier. The Thames rose over three feet and burst its banks in many places between Maidenhead and Staines—London Times.

Music is the harmony of being; but the music of Soul affords the only strains that thrill the chords of feeling and awaken the heart's harp-strings.—Mary Baker Eddy.

The language of tones belongs equally to all mankind, and melody is the absolute language in which the musician speaks to every heart.—Richard Wagner.

Young American Learned What "Old" Really Means In England

Leonard Lyons, in the New York Post, says: Lord Cranborne, the ex-Minister of Colonies and Britain's Lord Privy Seal recently was visited at his home in Cranborne by a young American who recited his genealogy—tracing his American ancestry back to the Mayflower days. "Come with me. I want to show you this house," Lord Cranborne interrupted. "Now take this part—this is the new wing."

"The NEW wing?" asked the American. "It looks so old." "It was built in 1377," the host informed, "but nevertheless—it's the new wing."

Greatest Test Of Wartime Information Board Is The Work Being Done For Canada

Ottawa.—John Grierson, general manager of the wartime information board, said in a statement that "the notice of Canada and its war effort is more flattering today than it ever was," that "the regard for Canada as a nation was never higher," and that "it is not done with mirrors."

Mr. Grierson's statement covering nine mimeographed foodsheet sheets, was issued "to eliminate certain misunderstandings" about W.I.B.

"It is a pity that the W.I.B. has hitherto kept itself so much in the dark," he said. "Unfortunately, it is only what is made readily apparent that is taken notice of."

W.I.B. expenses had recently received public notice. But of $579,000 spent by the board up to Feb. 13, $261,000 was for the national film board. There had been a few out-of-line salary expenditures but these had been adjusted.

"In the final account, when W.I.B. figures are compared with those of other nations, or even with those of big businesses operating in the information field, they are in all good sense defensible," said Mr. Grierson. "... Today all jobs involving public payment are filled in the normal way through the civil service commission; and expenditures are accountable within the ordinary hard-boiled terms laid down by the treasury."

In the last resort the test of W.I.B. was the work it is doing and how valuable it is to Canada. Charles Vining, first chairman of the board, had taken the view W.I.B.'s best service would be to enable the press and the film and the radio to "get on as smoothly and actively as possible with their own jobs."

AXIS SHIP LOSS

Now Totals Eight Million Tons Not Including Russia's Figures

London.—The Allies sank, captured or damaged an estimated 8,018,000 gross tons of Axis merchant shipping from the start of the war until the end of February, Lord Bruntisfield told the house of lords.

The estimate, the under-secretary to the admiralty said, including 4,027,000 gross tons of Italian shipping, 3,365,000 gross tons of German shipping and 626,000 tons of ships belonging to Axis satellites.

"The figures did not include the losses or damage inflicted by our Russian allies, the details of which are not available," Lord Bruntisfield said.

BRITONS PAY UP

London.—Britain's income tax alone brought in more than $1,000,000,000 ($1,450,000,000) during the financial year ended March 31.

The chancellor of the exchequer budgeted for $913,000,000, but the taxpayers came through with $93,000,000 more.

FEDERAL GOVERNMENT THINKS EACH PROVINCE SHOULD LOOK AFTER ITS OLD AGE PENSIONS

Ottawa.—Finance Minister Isley said in the House of Commons that the federal government looked on old age pensions, and possible increases, as the primary responsibility of provincial governments although the Dominion contributed to them.

Mr. Isley said he had regarded the cost-of-living bonus, designed as part of the wages policy, as inappropriate for pensioners.

The provinces were free to increase old age pensions without reducing the contribution made by the Dominion.

"I hope the day will come when we shall have a contributory old age pension system in this country," he continued.

"We certainly should have, but we require an amendment to the constitution in order to provide for it, just as we had to have an amendment of the constitution to provide for unemployment insurance."

"I cannot see why, in a state of affairs where all the provinces of the country have surpluses, and some of them enormous surpluses, the provinces should not undertake this, which is primarily their responsibility, not ours, instead of calling on us, with our huge deficits, running up to $2,000,000,000 and $3,000,000,000 a year."

MEAT RATIONING

Plans Being Worked Out Will Become Effective In May

Ottawa.—Meat will join sugar, butter, tea and coffee as a rationed food commodity early in May, with Canadians restricted to two pounds a week each, one-half pound less than their average per capita consumption in the past two years.

Finance Minister Isley announced the new rationing program in the House of Commons.

There had been no warning of final government decision that rationing was necessary although such a program had been expected since the imposition of meat rationing in the United States last month.

Methods of applying the rationing program are being worked out by the prices board which will make further announcements of the details.

Mr. Isley said that a nutrition advisory committee to the prices board foods administration had concluded that a ration of two pounds of meat a week, plus customary amounts of milk, eggs, cheese, fish and poultry, gave more protein from animal sources to satisfy nutritional requirements than is required for a person of any occupation.

Poultry and fish will not be included in the ration plan.

ACT AMENDED

Flat Rate For Acreage Shifted From Wheat To Other Crops

Ottawa.—Notice of an amendment to the Wheat Acreage Reduction Act, given in House of Commons votes and proceedings, will make provision, it is understood, to pay a flat rate of $2 an acre in three prairie provinces for land shifted from wheat to other crops.

The act passed last year had a system of payments which provided $2 an acre when the land was shifted from wheat to coarse grains and payments totalling $4 an acre when the land was seeded to grass or rye.

The new bill will make the rate $2 throughout, it is said, but will not be paid if the land is abandoned.

GIVES NO DETAILS

Churchill Refuses To Discuss Progress Of War Against Subs

London.—Prime Minister Churchill again refused to give details about the progress of the war against U-boats when he was asked in the House of Commons for information on "the great improvements recently effected."

"I deplore the discussion of this matter," Mr. Churchill said. "Certainly it would be quite impossible in public and even in secret session I should feel very much hampered in stating the full case. I must ask for a measure of confidence."

The provinces had been told that if a majority requested a reconsideration would be given it. He was not sure that such a step, involving federal expenditure, would be favorably considered in light of the provinces' surplus position. But supplemental allowances now were being paid by some provinces.

Mr. MacInnis said house members should "blush for shame" for asking old people to live on an allowance of $20 a month.

John G. Diefenbaker (Prog. Con. Lake Centre) said amounts paid in cost-of-living bonus, and in subsidies to hold the cost of living, should be made known. The house had heard of the benefits of holding the price ceiling but costs had not been given.

Finance Minister Isley said he anticipated giving the house information on such outlays later.

Mr. Diefenbaker said the whole basis of the cost-of-living bonus has been founded on the cost-of-living index number as of October, 1941, but since then, by order of a few days ago, the national war labor board had been given the power to order adjustments in the cost-of-living bonus using a month other than October, 1941, not earlier than August, 1939. The house should know the reason for the change.

Edmonton.—Maj.-Gen. W. A. Griessbach, C.B., C.M.G., D.S.O., V.D., Inspector-General of the Canadian army in western Canada, has resigned that post, word received here from Ottawa.

The report said there was no immediate comment by officials there. The general, who is 65, was reported to have offered to resign some time ago because of his health. He was appointed to the post of Inspector-General for the four western provinces when it was created in June, 1940.

Tanks just landed in North Africa are prepared for battle at a supply base in Algeria. Cannon shells have noses of different colors to distinguish various types of shell—high explosive, armor-piercing, shrapnel or fragmentation. These tanks may now be in action in Tunisia.

PRIME MINISTER'S STATEMENT TO HOUSE OF COMMONS ON GOVERNMENT'S AIR POLICY

Ottawa. Prime Minister Mackenzie King marked out for Canada an important place in international air transportation, in a statement of the government's civil aviation policy to the House of Commons.

Delivered in contemplation of international negotiations of great importance and recent discussions in the United States on the question of "freedom of the air," Mr. King's statement declared the government favors international collaboration in the international sphere.

The government has set up a committee to advise it on international civil aviation and has undertaken to design distinctive Canadian types of transport aircraft to aid in obtaining production of part of Canada's post-war needs from Canadian factories.

Speaking for the government of a nation lying astride some of the major future international air routes, transoceanic and transpolar, and which has become the fourth greatest air power among the United Nations, Mr. King summarized the air policy as follows:

1. "The government sees no good reason for changing its policy that Trans Canada Air Lines is the sole Canadian agency which may operate international air services."

2. "Within Canada, Trans-Canada Air Lines will continue to operate all trans-continental systems, and such other services of a main-line character as may from time to time be designated by the government."

"Competition between air services over the same route will not be permitted, whether between a publicly-owned service and a privately-owned service or between two privately-owned services."

"There will remain a large field for the development of air transport in which private Canadian companies may participate, and while preventing duplication of services, the government will continue to encourage private companies to develop services as traffic possibilities may indicate."

3. "In order to prepare for forthcoming international negotiations on air transport, the government is studying carefully the problems which will have to be dealt with in the negotiations."

4. "The Canadian government strongly favors a policy of international collaboration and co-operation in air transport and is prepared to support in international negotiations whatever international air transport policy can be demonstrated as being best calculated to serve not only the immediate national interests of Canada but also our over-riding interest in the establishment of an international order which will prevent the outbreak of another world war."

The prime minister emphasized that any international arrangements made now are being made on a temporary basis.

"It has recently announced that licenses for air services operating between Canada and the United States would continue for the duration of the war."

Mr. King said all concessions granted to other countries as part of the war effort would end with the war, presumably referring to rights extended the United States for operation of services and construction of airports.

"The government, however, intends to press vigorously for a place in international air transportation consistent with Canada's geographical position and progress in aviation."

TOTAL DISARMAMENT OF AXIS NATIONS ONLY WAY TO ENSURE LASTING PEACE AND SECURITY

Ottawa.—Anthony Eden went a step further than other United Nations leaders have gone recently in a speech delivered to the Canadian parliament, in calling for the maintenance of an international force jointly by the United Nations to police Germany, Italy and Japan.

"It is essential," said the British foreign secretary, "that when this war is over the United Nations should maintain sufficient force to ensure that neither Germany, nor Italy, nor Japan can ever again plunge the world into war." He said the chief failure of the old League of Nations was its lack of "sufficiently wide international authority to express its decisions and an adequate force to see them executed."

The conception of the United Nations is gradually taking shape. Mr. Eden told senators and house members assembled in the House of Commons chamber. Galleries were packed with spectators, and many members of the Ottawa diplomatic corps.

Eden delivered an answer to the argument that the United Nations should set up a central council to direct the Allied war effort. Pointing to the British commonwealth of equal nations held together by a spirit of understanding, Eden declared the United Nations must build as they go, rather than devise elaborate structures into which each member nation would be fitted. Speaking of the British commonwealth he said "We have neither rigid rules nor precise formulae."

The immediate need of the Allies was a "close understanding between the British commonwealth and the United States, Russia and China," he said, "and the full co-operation of all the United Nations."

"Together," he declared, "we can win the war and win the peace."

"There is only one security for mankind in respect of all of them: to ensure that they are totally disarmed and in no position ever to try their strength again. Then, indeed, peace may have a chance."

Mr. Eden said it was better for the United Nations to build up mutual understanding and means of co-operation as they went along, rather than to devise all at once, some "elaborate structure into which we should seek to fit the component parts as best we may."

Co-operation, thus borne of necessity and forged by experience, would have the best chance to survive into the years of peace.

NO LONGER MADE

Manufacture Of Junkers-87 Discontinued According To Report

London.—German dive-bombers, the Junkers-87, once the symbol of the Nazi air force's domination of the skies, no longer are being manufactured, a usually reliable source said. While there is no confirmation in official quarters, qualified air observers here said they "would not be at all surprised."

The air ministry always has insisted the Junkers-87 was an over-rated plane and was losing importance within the German air force.

"Imagine me helping to make rubber tires!"

"WE horses hauled caissons with the best of 'em back in 1914-1918. And darned if this war—motorized as it is—hasn't backed right up to our stable doors again. Ploughing, planting and harvesting the grain for high-proof alcohol is what they want us for this time . . . high-proof alcohol to make the rubber Hirohito thought he was doing us out of. And folks, the United Nations are getting that grain, that alcohol, that rubber!"

Synthetic rubber made from high-proof alcohol is jumping out of the test tube and onto the wheels and treads of jeeps, trucks, tanks, and airplane landing gear, outwearing and outfighting the best natural rubber. Unaffected by gasoline and oil, it's going into self-sealing gas tanks, gasoline and fuel oil hose and pipeline connections. It's making rafts, diving suits, oxygen masks and literally thousands of other pieces of war equipment.

Today high-proof alcohol is pouring from our stills in an ever-increasing volume . . . a vital element of Victory!

MAIN DRIVING WHEELS OF CANADA'S WAR EFFORT

HURRYING wheels, thundering wheels. Wheels that have made it possible for Canada to grow in strength.

Today those wheels—the driving wheels of Canada's railways—are setting the pace for the war effort. They haul raw materials to humming war industries and rush away the finished tools of battle. They move food and fuel for the home front and the fighting front. They speed civilians on essential business, hasten troops to camps, embarkation points and on leave.

It's Canada's big war job. A job that only railway wheels can do. A job in which an army of 150,000 railway workers, men and women, is in the fight for Canada . . . shop crews and train crews, yard workers, section hands, telegraphers, signal men and office workers, a multitude of men and women in a multitude of jobs. They are making the giant wheels turn faster and faster.

From coast to coast in Canada, we—your railways—are rolling in the service of freedom, and our lines to and in the United States have linked the war efforts of two great sister nations.

The railway wheels are driving, in war as in peace, for Canada.

'LET THE FLAME OF FAITH BURN BRIGHTLY'

In history 'Finis' can never be set at the end of the page nor at the close of a year. The end of one chapter tells the beginning of another, the close of the old year the opening of a new. Standing within the threshold of 1943, the challenge is of the ages, a call for courage amid toil and trial and sacrifice. We look back upon a year of cloud and pain, hallowed by the death of heroes. Their valor is ransom for our future, and has opened for us the vista of triumph now stretching ahead. Let us not lose what they have bought. As we press on to victory, let the flame of our faith burn brightly. With gratitude for the past, with courage for the present, with faith for the future, let us reconsecrate ourselves to our task . . . to the end that torment may be lifted from men's hearts and peace come for all nations and peoples.

Stack is an American airman who has been posted in Britain for active service. Miss Barrymore helps in a canteen. The picture shows Nazi air raids in Britain, death and destruction. It shows London's fire fighters in action. Air battles are also depicted between British and American airmen against the Germans. It goes a long way in showing Canadian audiences the conditions under which Britons lived during the early years of the war under Nazi air raids.

... and when you buy a Victory Bond, to help Bill, and other boys on active service, you do something that will benefit you too. You save money. It's really a mistake to say that you "buy" a Victory Bond. You are not buying anything.

You are saving money, and putting your savings where they will be absolutely safe, and where they earn money for you. (Each $100.00 Victory Bond earns $3.00 a year—3% interest.) You are likely producing more, and earning more. You can save more. You are not buying some things; you can't get them. You are buying less of many things—they're rationed. You can't help saving more. See to it that your savings are kept intact— earmarked for things you will need when the war ends. You will have to replace things that are worn out. You will want a lot of things. Money saved and invested in Victory Bonds will provide cash to pay for them.

WHAT IS A VICTORY BOND?

A VICTORY BOND is the promise of the Dominion of Canada to repay in cash the full face value of the Bond at the time stipulated, with half-yearly interest at the rate of 3% per annum until maturity.

A Victory Bond is the safest investment in Canada. The entire resources of the Dominion stand behind it. Canada has been issuing bonds for 75 years, and has never failed to pay every dollar of principal and interest.

GARDEN NOTES

Avoid These Mistakes

The three commonest mistakes of the new gardener are planting too early, too deep and too thick. All of these things lead to trouble, to unnecessary work or disappointment.

Seed planted too deep will not germinate well. The general rule is three times the diameter, which means mere pressing into the soil for fine seed like that of radish, poppy, carrot, etc., and about one or two inches deep for beans and peas. With bulbs and tubers like gladiolus and potatoes, from six to ten inches deep is recommended, the heavier the soil the shallower the planting.

Too early planting, of course, with tender things that will not stand frost is fatal. Many gardeners, too, rush all vegetable seeds in at the same time and usually a day or two ahead of the regular season. This is all right, professionals point out, for a portion of the seed in each packet. With luck one gets very early vegetables, but most of the seed should be saved for regular planting and some of it for later on. This ensures safety against early losses through weather and, what is more important, it spreads the harvesting season over several weeks, with really garden fresh vegetables coming along steadily for the table instead of a feast and a famine succession.

Precautions against planting seed too close together are based on a genuine desire to save the amateur a lot of work. If seed is properly spaced in the first place, there will be little thinning, which in most cases is a bit of a chore. With things like carrots, beets, lettuce, etc., it is difficult to space to the two inches the first plants should be apart, but with a little care it can be done thinly. Sowing of very small seed can be aided by mixing the same with a little dry sand, then sowing the whole mixture.

Nursery Stock Care

Nursery stock is the cheapest name given to hardy perennial shrubs, flowers, vines, trees and roses that are grown for one to three years from seed in a nursery before being sold to gardeners and fruit growers. Like seed, it is important to secure such stock from a reputable source and one that is familiar and caters to Canadian conditions.

Men seem to fall into two groups, says the Kitchener Record. They're either old and bent, or young and broke.

Hard On Pilots

Terrific Pace Of Dive Bombing Creates Temporary Blackout

The London correspondent of the Ottawa Journal says: A few days ago I met in a London club a quiet unobtrusive man in the thirties who specializes in the highly-paid but hazardous business of testing new airplanes. Before this war he even did some testing for the Germans, and he knows all about their dive-bombers.

He told me some interesting facts about these machines. From our point of view, though obviously not that of Hitler's Nazis, the great objection to dive-bomber planes is the terrible way they use up their pilots. Dive-bombing is done at a terrific pace and, every time a pilot dives, and jerks up the nose of the machine to rise again, he gets what is known as "a black out".

This is familiar enough to airmen who make sudden turns at high speed. But it is exaggerated in the case of the dive-bomber pilot and every time he repeats the operation the black-out period is longer. It may be only a second or two at first, but it steadily increases and eventually may extend to as much as half a minute. What is likely to happen to a machine, travelling at over 300 m.p.h. with its pilot "out" for half a minute, seems fairly certain.

PETER AND JOHN WITNESS CHRIST'S GLORY

Golden text: There came a voice out of the cloud. This is my beloved Son; hear ye him. Mark 9:7.

Lesson: Mark 9:2-8; II Peter 1:16-18.

Devotional Reading: II Corinthians 3:12-18.

Explanations and Comments

Peter, James and John Witness Christ's Glory, Mark 9:2-8. Six days after the events in the neighborhood of Caesarea Philippi (Mark 8:27-38) Jesus and his three favored disciples, Peter, James and John, ascended a high mountain where he was transfigured before them. Had the disciples been perplexed and anxious during that week? Did that mysterious announcement of their Master's coming suffering and death seem to them so utterly impossible for him whom they had declared the Christ that they were even failing in their faith? In the Mount the answer came, and then they knew that, however the mystery was to be explained, their Master was the Son of God. The Transfiguration with its revelation of glory and power dispelled all dependency.

Jesus was transfigured. The fashion of his countenance was altered (Luke 9:29); his face did shine as the sun (Matthew 17:2). It was not a splendor that fell on his face from without and light it up; the glory came from within.

"The Jewish rabbis had said that one of the attributes lost through Adam's fall was a glory of countenance which reflected God's presence. Great thoughts and noble enthusiasms tend to transfigure even the outward person. We are all familiar with the colloquial expression about the 'lighting up' of the human face in moments of exalted feeling. The change in Jesus was an objective experience visible to the disciples. It was a real experience of inward and outward beatification through which Jesus passed." (William Gird).

And his garments became glistering, exceeding white, so as no fuller on earth can whiten them. (A fuller was one who fulled cloth, thickened it by moistening, beating and pressing.) "It was as if a monarch had been walking in disguise; only occasionally beneath his humble garment had been revealed a glimpse of the purple and the gold. Here, for a time, a disguise is withdrawn, and the king appears in his real majesty and in the regal splendor of his divine glory" (C. R. Erdman).

And Moses and Elijah appeared, talking with Jesus. The three favored disciples had wrapped their arguments about them and lain down to rest upon the bare ground. There they had fallen asleep, and on awakening suddenly, they saw the glory of Christ, and saw Moses and Elijah talking with him.

Gadget Saves 200,000 Cups A Year

Passengers on Trans-Canada Air Lines planes drink their coffee out of light-weight paper cups and in a year the T.C.A. uses 600,000 of them. With wartime restrictions on paper, this is quite an item, and executives of the air line decided they would have to do something about it. So that the cup of coffee wouldn't be too hot to hold, the practice has been to give each passenger two cups, one inside the other, providing a double thickness of paper.

"Now, if we could only have handies on our cups," said D. R. MacLaren, Supervisor of Passenger Service, "one cup would be enough at a time. We'd save paper and the passengers would be more comfortable." Jack Reid, Supervisory of Commissary for T.C.A., found the answer. He devised a gadget of the plastic called Lucite. It started out as a rod such as dentists and doctors use and was twisted to encircle the cup and make a handle.

When they are used, the cups are thrown away, but the handles are kept for the next time. Mr. MacLaren estimates that at least 200,000 cups a year will be saved.

In the photograph, he is seen showing the device to Miss Margaret Dickson, Chief Supervisory Stewardess for Trans-Canada.

Fly In Reserve

Hummingbird Has Been Described As The Human Helicopter

We owe an apology to the hummingbird for having expressed a doubt in these columns that he is as good as the new Vought-Sikorsky helicopter. We said that he seemed to fly in reverse when the breeze blew the honeysuckle blossom to his bill, and that he seemed to hover in a stationary position in the air.

We were too cautious. The human eye is still reliable. For Dr. Karl P. Schmidt, chief curator of the Department of Zoology of the Field Museum of Natural History, writes us: "Hummingbirds do fly in reverse in the situation you describe." That settled it. And we are glad that it turns out that way. Incidentally, the hummingbird is also like a fighter plane—a very vulgar and little fellow.—Chicago Daily News.

Their days were spent in fishing, bicycle riding and reading. A new strength and health came to Smithy. Between him and Paula, there sprang up an idyllic relationship, companionable and loving.

Smithy was hardly aware of its import though until the day that Paula returned from the Post Office with a letter for him. He had been tiny check to be sure. It was from the managing editor of the Liverpool Mercury publication in payment for an article that Smithy had submitted. Why, Smithy was an author. He had written something and been paid for it.

"Smithy," she said, "I wonder if you were a writer before . . . before the war . . ." He shrugged and went on. "You might even be married Smithy. Who knows?" "Nonsense." He had spoken brusquely. The very thought had been shocking. How could he ever have been married to anyone . . . but Paula! He had been helping her spread out their small picnic lunch. Now his words came in a rush. Suppose he were to make a living—be independent. Paula would never have to talk about going back on the stage and . . . "Paula, it's an awful nerve but I've fallen in love with you."

She sat back. Then all at once, she was in rebellion. No, he was just being a gentleman. Why, she'd run after him from the very beginning. She had never let him out of her sight since he had seen him in the tobacconist's shop. And now he was being grateful. "Oh Smithy, please don't ask me. I might have you up on it. I'm just that shameless."

"Paula," his voice was eager, his face tense. "I love you more than anything in the world. My life began with you. I can't imagine a future without you." She looked at him a long time. It be proud of—someone of position and importance in the world.

The Vicar's car was waiting outside. As the horn sounded, Smithy came back for Paula's goodbye kiss. "Take care of my family, darling. See you tomorrow night."

She pressed her lips to his. Then her smile erased the worry on her forehead. "Tomorrow night. Good luck, Smithy."

He left and her frown returned. It was the first time since they'd met that they would be parted. But Smithy would be all right. Of course. He'd come back safe. He must.

CHAPTER II

The Great Northern was just a few streets from the Mercury. The next morning, Smithy stepped out of the hotel. It was a dark day. The streets were wet, traffic was heavy.

He started across the street. All at once a woman screamed. Then a man shouted. There was the horrible shriek of brakes. Smithy felt the impact of a terrible blow on his head. He fell and lay sprawling on the ground.

A while later he opened his eyes dazedly. A crowd stood around him. He had a strange feeling of coming back to a new world—and in a way he had—for the blow on his head had removed all recollection of the man who had been John Smith. No trace of the Asylum, of Melbridge, of Paula remained in his consciousness. His last recollection was of that moment on the battlefield when a shell had hit him. All he knew now that he was Charles Rainier of Canfield Hall, Surrey, England.

In all the commotion of the next few moments he was aware of his shabby clothes. Quickly he asked questions and realized that he had

Canada's Own Hospital

Boys Being Well Looked After At Taplow House in England

A letter was recently received by Miss S. G. Hinchcliffe, Toronto, from a teacher of handicraft in Taplow House at Taplow, England. As this is Canada's own Red Cross hospital, the following from Miss Sylvia Shimming's letter has special interest.

"I feel it would be of great interest to the people in Canada to know exactly what is being done for the boys. As for the attention they get in the hospital it honestly couldn't be better. Besides five of us teaching handicrafts there are three Red Cross girls who do nothing but visit the patients, write their letters, hand out fruit juice to the sick and really take the place of mothers. There is a movie twice a week and a lot of the bed patients are able to get to it.

"The handicraft department has been going for more than two and a half years now. We have a large workshop which is open to all—we teach about 200 boys a month. The standard of their work is very high. One of the most popular things is making leather handbags. As these are practically unobtainable now, you can imagine how sought-after they are. The boys buy their own materials and the finished product is then theirs to do what they like with.

They are very happy and well looked after."

George Washington Never Waited
Even For Late Dinner Guests

George Washington was a fiend for punctuality as attested by "Lives of the Presidents," a volume by John S. C. Abbott: "His dining hour was at 4 o'clock when his aunts sat down to his table, whether his guests were assembled or not. To those who came late, he remarked, 'Gentlemen, we are punctual here; my cook never asks whether the company has arrived, but whether the hour has.'"

TAX ON GERMANY

The Port Arthur News-Chronicle says homeless, due to air raids over Germany, now run above a million, according to best reports. As these are German people the German military machine cannot just leave them to their fate as they do others. The job of looking after them will be another tax on the nation's resources.
